MA'S MAJORITY OVER BULLINGTON CLIMBS TO NEAR 100,000

Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson has been elected Governor of Texas on the Democratic ticket, sweeping to victory in the state on last Tuesday.

Up to Thursday her majority over Orville Bullington of Wichita Falls, Republican, was close to 100,000 votes with only about 400,000 votes accounted for. It is estimated that Texas had cast 850,000 votes.

Four times the Ferguson family has held the governorship of Texas. Ma now returns for a second term following her defeat by young Dan Moody in 1926.

The latest tabulation gave Mrs. Ferguson 256,398 and Bullington 162,823.

All Amendments have carried in Texas.

Ma and Pa Ferguson have been invited to Uvalde to spend a few days with John and Etta Garner, a sort of old fashioned visit between neighbors.

EDUCATOR TALKS HERE ON PROBLEMS NOW BEFORE THE PEOPLE

Delivering a masterful address on the subject of education, Dr. Hughes of the Department of Education of A. & M. College, held the close attention of the members of the Lions Club and guests Tuesday.

Dr. Hughes compared the expenditures of the people of Texas for luxuries with the expenditures for school purposes, and declared that the people spend annually more than ten times the amount for luxuries than is spent for all school purposes.

Among the luxuries that total nearly a billion dollars a year, Dr. Hughes included tobacco, golf clubs and sports, face paint which he stated calls for ten million dollars by itself, picture shows, jewelry and automobiles for pleasure riding.

Dr. Hughes also stressed the need of better school facilities for the rural districts and stated that we could not expect to have the sort of farmers America should have until they received equal advantages as far as education is concerned.

He states that the largest problem the coming legislature will have, is that of equitable distribution of taxation, that our schools may be adequately maintained and the burden be lifted from the small farmer and home owner.

NEGRO SENTENCED

Burnie McDonald pleaded guilty to murder without malice of Henry Breedlove, both colored, near San Gabriel on September 10th and was given four years in the penitentiary. J. W. Garner and Ed Gunn of Rockdale represented the defendant and A. J. Lewis the State.

DIPHTHERIA—THROAT AND RESPIRATORY INFECTIONS

RHYTHMIC RESUME

On many a fragrant sighing breeze
Kisses dust with germs to cause disease;

On door knobs touched by everyone
Are millions left to start their fun.
On food or dainty finger tips
They're passed inside dainty ruby lips

To nose or throat or lungs they go
To put on quickly their big show.

It is estimated by good authorities that at least 80 per cent of all kinds of sickness especially those with fever are due to bacteria or germs which may produce a great deal of local irritation wherever they may be located; they also may be absorbed into the blood producing fever, pain, soreness and inflammation. The name of the organ involved with its added toxin means inflammation of that particular organ but does not tell the name of the germs which cause it. Toxins or poisons from these germs may be absorbed into the blood weakening the heart and making the patient weak and anemic.

Germs produce lung and throat trouble, sinus trouble, bronchitis, etc. and even finally go down into the intestines producing appendicitis, gall bladder trouble, etc. They get into the system through the nose in the air we breathe and through the mouth by means of the finger tips and foods or anything that may have the infection on it gotten from sick persons or carriers who have the germs though they may not then be sick.

The most common source of transferring germs in schools and other public places is by the fingers which touch the door knob on which the secretions have been left by other patients handling the same and are thereby conveyed by the fingers, drinking cups, food, pencils, etc. into the nose or mouth. Hence keep your fingers, pencils and other things that may have germs on them out of your mouth. Avoid dusty rooms, such as school rooms after they have been recently swept. Moisten the broom and sprinkle the floor before sweeping, lowering the top sash and raising slightly the lower sash. Avoid getting close to persons who have had recently infectious diseases like diphtheria, sore throat, tonsillitis, bronchitis, bad colds, etc. Immediately after a sore throat, cough or fever develops, have some one to look into your throat if the doctor is not convenient. If you have much fever and pain, go to bed at once and call your family physician. Mild attacks may be helped frequently by a gargle of one teaspoonful of common baking soda and one teaspoonful of Epsom salts to the pint of hot water followed by a gargle of plain cold salt water, one teaspoonful to the pint repeated every two hours. If there are white spots on the tonsils and pillars, suspect diphtheria at once call your physician. Remember an early diagnosis of diphtheria insures a rapid cure if the antitoxin is used in the proper dose. Diphtheria is dangerous if neglected; it causes

Faithful Citizenship

By LOIS PECK

"I am a citizen of the United States of America. I pledge myself to Uncle Sam to live in loyalty to my nation, its Constitution and its laws. In the spirit of justice, I will do my best to establish peace, good will, and happiness, and to increase the benefits of civilization to all humanity."

To be a happy, useful citizen, one must have courage and hope; wisdom, industry and good habits; knowledge and usefulness; truth and honesty, helpfulness and cleanliness; helpfulness and usefulness; charity, humility and reverence and faith and responsibility.

American Education Week begins with a celebration of Armistice Day. This is a good time to emphasize the advance in world progress since the war and to show the part that education has had in that advance. Special programs will be given to call attention to the Pact of Paris and the responsibility of the school for promoting world good will and understanding; to call attention to the leadership of World War veterans in the movement to avoid future wars through education; to emphasize the ideal to live for loved ones, for public duty and the rights of women, as well as to die for them. On Armistice Day faithful citizenship should be magnified.

Schools should emphasize fair play, justice, co-operation, integrity, patriotism and citizenship.

Good citizenship comes from within. It is an expression of fine ideals and worthy ambitions.

Hallowe'en should be hilarious but not harmful. It is a great occasion for the youngsters. I should be the last one to suggest any curtailment of the hilarity incidental to the proper observance of the evening. The young people however should be taught to discriminate very clearly between legitimate pranks and destruction of property. School property is the child's possession. No one would play a joke on himself.

Under no circumstances should mechanism of a car be the object of a prank. This cannot be classified in any manner except as criminal.

Schools train the boys and girls of America to become good citizens. School study in Geography, history, current events and social civics prepare children for citizenship duties. Schools aid immigrants to understand and meet the problems of everyday life. Schools eliminate factional and national hatreds and develop true mutual sympathy, respect and understanding essential to loyal citizenship.

Mastery of The Tools, Techniques and Spirit of Learning

By NILEY SMITH

Webster defines technique as pertaining to the mechanical arts as relating to art, science, or to a particular profession. He defines technique as artistic execution, skill and beauty in work.

Every person should master knowledge and acquire skill and that mastery should make as much use as possible of the individual's natural capacities, for growth as indicated by his interests and especially by his own purposes.

Man is just as far above lower animals in as much as he is born with the power to choose. The mastery of this power to choose is the learning that makes him successful. The artist must choose and group with science those elements in order that the result may be beautiful. The musician gathers his notes and forms his chords until he brings forth glorious harmony. But the manner in which an artist or a musician masters this choice determines whether or not he is a genius. The same is true of other professions. The practical workman is superior as he chooses to master his craftsmanship. In the school room and on the athletic field we find the same technical values of the individual.

Webster defines spirit as pertaining to courage, energy, vivacity, power of mind, moral and intellectual, genius; real meaning.

To attain superiority in any walk of life one must have spirit. What is true on the athletic field is true in the classroom or in business. What would our athletic contests be if the participants did not show spirit, courage and the determination to win. Would a crowd of seventy or eighty thousand pay two or three dollars to see a college football game as they do in some places today, if the players played in a listless, don't care manner? No, what the crowd likes to see is a hard fought contest, with every man showing plenty of spirit and pep. The teacher in the classroom does not admire a listless student, and a listless person does not get far in the world. One must keep one's spirit, courage, determination to make a success in life to attain his or her goal.

Mental Health

By MARY ALICE PHIPPS

Intellectual growth alone leaves us one-legged. If we only had X-Ray visions so we could look through people and see the size of their souls, we should find that one may graduate from college and still be a child in feeling, with an emotional age of seven and a quotient of seventy-one.

Your big man has very likely succeeded on the basis of his mental health, be it inborn or acquired. He has found, perhaps by the bitter experience of costly mistakes that he must hold his temper or lose his course, must avoid envy, jealousy and other reducing moods or passions; must be cheerful and friendly if he would hold friends, and must be able to take a beating with a smile to win from the Indian-tempered world its admiration.

Cooperation between the home and the school is essential for the success and happiness of the boys and girls in our public schools. His attitude toward food, sleep, play, authority, companions, and also toward himself are directly correlated with his mental and physical welfare. Education is not merely a matter of book learning but is a matter of behavior; we do not learn self-control by reading about it and committing to memory many facts about the nature of self control. Similarly we learn honesty by being honest and courage by being courageous.

The outstanding symptoms of mental disturbance is unhappiness. Every child has desires which he tries to satisfy. It is natural for a child to be happy and to desire pleasurable associations with his companions. The mentally healthy child is one who is fairly successful in meeting the problems that arise. He takes a keen interest in living. He enjoys his play and accepts ordinary responsibility. He meets difficulties fairly and squarely. He has an attitude of good will toward others and gets along with them. The child who is mentally healthy is happy and has wholesome attitudes that enable him to fit in with the group around him. He is successful.

Stomach Disorders Threaten His Life Says Western Banker

"I tried everything to get relief from stomach trouble," says M. J. Joy, prominent banker, 425 Riverside Avenue, Spokane, Wash. "About an hour after meal time severe, burning pains would develop in my stomach. Finally I had to carry a thermos bottle filled with milk and take a drink every hour. I went to one stomach specialist after another. All recommended an immediate operation and diagnosed my case as an ulcer. One doctor told my wife that I had a cancer of the stomach. X-Rays cost me over $300. I was afraid to submit to an operation as a friend of mine had one for a stomach ulcer and later he was as bad as ever. A neighbor told me about a marvelous new discovery by a German specialist called KING'S STOMACH TABLETS. I wired for a bottle to be sent me C. O. D. After taking the first tablet I felt relieved. Davilla Nine Stops Sharp Cats In
Third Game of Final Series

Despite Reichert and Pepper Young with their long hits and Arch Peele's excellent mound work the Davilla "Diamond Warriors" carried off a 7 to 4 victory leaving the two teams on a tie for the championship of the South Milam. White featured excellent mound work for Davilla by getting eleven strikeouts and allowing only scattering hits. However, the scores were tied in the ninth inning and Davilla won the game on an error. The final game to be played next Sunday will be played on neutral territory it was reported here today.

Today If You Suffer

Like This Lady Did

"WHEN I was a girl, I began taking Cardui," writes Mrs. Maggie Stanfield, of Crandall, Ga. "I was very irregular for twelve months. Nothing did me very much good until my mother began to give me this medicine. Then I got all right, stout and well."

"After I was married, I was in bad health. I began taking Cardui again. I was troubled with my back a lot. Was awfully restless. I could not sleep well. I just weighed 90 pounds when I began taking Cardui. I improved rapidly. Before long I weighed 126 pounds. I felt fine. I was able to do a good day's work."

ARMISTICE DAY

1918 - 1932

Shadows of the Past Return for a Day

Gone from the papers are the headlines telling anxious civilians of the tide of battle. Died away are the echoes of our cheers as America's Finest marched forth to war. Now our thoughts turn to business conditions and football scores. The very sirens and whistles that hailed golden victory 14 years ago summon workers to task or leisure.

But this is an anniversary. Just now let us reflect in gratitude on the boys who have done their bit and who have turned their efforts to peace and to America.

How Cardui Helps Women

"Mal-nutrition" means that your body is not getting enough to keep it up, so that what it has to do is not done well. You may not be eating enough to keep up the work of the body, or there may be something wrong that keeps you from getting full value from the food you eat.

Because of mal-nutrition, some women have aches and pains every month. Such pains should not be neglected.

Take Cardui to give you a better appetite, to give you more strength from the food you eat—to build up and increase your feeling of well-being. Aches and pains go away as you build up with the help of Cardui.

COLORED HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The Vocational Agriculture Students of the Cameron Colored High School met on October 20, 1932 and organized their F. F. A. Chapter.

The officers of the organization are: Moss Thomas, president; Nathaniel Cherry, vice president; Billy Burks, secretary, Eunice Daniel, treasurer; Charlie Thomas, reporter, Oscar Bowler, doorkeeper and Fred Cavanaugh, chaplain.

There are many advantages which the boys will derive from the organization. Some of them are:

1. The F. F. A. develops leadership by participation in the public speaking contest.

2. The F. F. A. develops the students ability to speak in public.

3. The F. F. A. promotes scholarship, as this is one of the requirements in the organization.

4. The F. F. A. develops the habit of putting into practice the boys' ideals, because one of the best habits a boy can form is that of putting into practice his ambitions and plans.

5. The F. F. A. cultivates in the boys a business procedure by setting up in the boys as one of its objectives the matter of thrift and saving accounts.

6. The F. F. A. teaches the boys to cooperate, because there are many activities in the organization which are group activities and cannot be accomplished except through the work of the group as a whole.

The Vocational Agriculture Judging team of the Cameron colored high school won second place in the 'Almot' contest, which was held in Alcorn, Miss. on October 13 and 14, 1932. The members of the team, as ranked according to their individual score, were:

Dussie Poole, score 479.

Willie Woods, score 477.

Billy Burks, score 472.

Eunice Daniel, alternate.

They were accompanied by Miss Jennie June Howell of Bryan. Rev. Flinn has been made Presiding Elder of Houston District, this year. This is one of the best appointments in the Texas Conference.

H. Holtzhour, traveling salesman who has been traveling in several states for the past month, arrived Tuesday night and left Wednesday, accompanied by his wife who has been at the Bigbee House the past month, and will visit in Austin, San Antonio, Houston, Galveston and New Orleans before the holidays.

Synopsis of Preceding Chapter

Captain Paul Onslow, head of the Sylvanian delegation at the International Peace Conference at Geneva, is the guest of Baron von Sturm, a compatriot, and his daughter, Valerie, Karl Kranz who loves Valerie, also stays at the house. Onslow has aroused fierce resentment by voting against universal peace which he considers dangerous to Sylvania. Alarmed for his safety, Valerie calls for Onslow at the Peace Palace in her car. As they are riding home, a pistol is discharged at them.

Chapter II

As they crouched on the floor another bullet ripped through the glass and buried itself in the upholstery. Then all was still as the car rolled swiftly out of range. On the seat with the chauffeur, the secretary Kellner crouched, blanched with fear.

For a moment there was no sound but Valerie's broken sobs as she clung to Paul. Finally he spoke reassuringly. "It's all right dear. We're out of it now."

Her arms tightened about him. Her face pressed against his.

"Oh, Paul—if anything had happened to you . . . if you had been killed."

For an instant he looked at her. Then he crushed her to him kissing her on the lips—a long hungry kiss. "Valerie," he murmured, "my darling."

"Say that again," she breathed, her eyes shining. "Say it every minute."

That evening when all were assembled in the Baron's drawing room there was none of the light banter that customarily marked their after supper gatherings. The benevolent face of the old Baron was very grave. Karl was even more concerned. Paul Onslow made light of the attempt on his life. He had anticipated something of the sort. He like the other men was chiefly shocked that Valerie had been exposed to the danger. The Baron was urging that the police be notified when Sturges entered to announce Professor Bauer.

The Professor, one of the most talked of scientists in Europe, famous alike for his learning and eccentricity was an old friend of Baron von Sturm who left the room immediately to welcome him. He returned escorting a short, carelessly dressed man with broad flat face and outthrust jaw. The newcomer went up to Valerie and pinched her cheek.

"It's nice to see you again my little Baroness," he cried. "Since I saw you last you grew tall like the Tower of Eiffel."

"It's nice to see you again, Professor Bauer," she smiled. "You remember Karl?"

"Yah. Why not," grunted Bauer. Then with a sudden yelp of pain he flopped into a chair and pulled off his right shoe. "Ach, those bunions." He looked at Onslow. "Do you ever get them?"

Embarrassed Valerie hastened to present Paul. Bauer growled an acknowledgment. Then looking up, "Once I knew a Doctor Onslow of Sylvania. Are you related?"

"Distantly. He was the ninth child. I was the first."

The Professor joined in the laugh that followed. Then he rose. A giant was trundling a large crate toward the laboratory. It was Bauer's man, Blucher a deaf mute. By signs the professor directed his handling of the crate. Then he and the Baron entered the room lined with test tubes and retorts. They chaffed one another a bit as Blucher arranged the crate. When he had gone the Baron became serious.

"What is in that case, Otto?"

Solemnly Bauer replied, "Emil, in there is something that science will shout about. Tomorrow at the University I show it to the world. Yah!"

On the moon bathed terrace outside the drawing room windows Valerie faced Karl. His eyes were tragic.

"I had to tell you Karl," she said gently.

"But you haven't known Paul long enough to really love him. It's infatuation—that's all."

She turned away.

"Just a little while ago," he persisted, "you said you didn't know your own mind."

"I know it now. I'm sure of everything that I was uncertain about before. I'm sorry I hurt you Karl."

They were silent a moment. Then Karl said:

"It won't work out. Listen dear — Paul is the finest man I know, but he has only two interests in life, his country and his career. There's not enough room left for—the kind of love you need."

"Please!" she protested.

"I'm sorry. It's all so meaningless without you, Val," he faltered. Then with an effort he regained control of himself, seeing her white face. "Forget what I've said. I hope you have all kinds of luck — and happiness." He started to leave.

"Don't go," she begged.

"I'd better."

"I'll see you tonight at the dinner."

"All right," he answered.

She watched him as he went away. When she turned, Paul was beside her. He too was watching Karl.

"Why did Karl go without seeing me?" he asked.

"Oh," she stammered, "I told him about — us."

"You told Karl?"

"He and I have always been great friends," said Valerie, smiling at his troubled tone. She took his arm and directed their steps toward the house.

"I see," answered Paul. "Val—you are quite sure I'm the one you love?"

"Quite sure—my dear—don't let anything take you from me ever."

"What could?" then he teased. "You mean the pretty girls who are coming to your dinner tonight? No danger there. I won't have much time for them."

"Why?"

"There is another conference tonight. I forgot to tell you."

Valerie's blood chilled. The vision of that mob—the pistol shots—invading the beauty of this moment with her beloved terrified her.

"No! I won't let you go!" she cried. "Not after what happened this afternoon."

"But I must, dear."

"Please! Let some one else vote for you! There are other representatives from Sylvania."

"There's only one who will vote my way." Then the grimness left his face. "Soon we'll be married. Then I'll take you away—Biarritz, Cannes, Capri, Heaven!"

"And after Heaven—what? Shall I live all my life in fear of losing you?"

"Of course not."

"Oh, yes I will. Paul," she pleaded, "for me—for our love—give up this dangerous career."

"Give up my career? Darling, it's my life. All my people have been in the diplomatic service. It's bred in me. You're not being fair."

"Fair," she retorted, "to whom? To you—to me—to Sylvania?"

"Sylvania hasn't anyone else to depend on to help her. She's depending on me."

"So am I," she persisted.

"I can't desert her now dear," Paul explained patiently.

"I don't want you to. You've started a fight. You must finish it. But when it's over—after to-night."

"After to-night?" He faced her challengingly. "Val! Are you asking me to choose between you and —"

"I love you," she broke in. "I can't bear to have you in danger." Her hand over his lips checked his answer. "Don't answer me now," she begged. "Tell me later—what you decide."

She tried to smile holding back the tears. Then suddenly she left him.

STUDENTS OBSERVING EDUCATIONAL WEEK

By LOIS PECK

The history and english classes of Yoe High School have been conducting several educational programs in commemoration of National Education Week.

The past week was set aside as courtesy week. It was conducted in the following manner. The Senior and Junior classes were given tags with which to tag students who committed breaches of courtesy. The Seniors tagged the sophomores with yellow tags and tagged the juniors and faculty members with red tags. The juniors tagged the freshmen with green tags and the seniors and faculty members with purple tags. The class which has the fewest number of tags will be rewarded and also the students who received no tags will be rewarded in some manner by their two English teachers. The Seniors have approximately 162 tags, the Juniors 150; the Sophomores 90 and the Freshmen 89. The Faculty Members have about 44 tags.

Soon we will set aside a week for Good English Week. In this week the Freshmen and Sophomores will be permitted to tag Juniors, Seniors and Faculty Members for the use of

Recently themes have been written by Junior and Senior students, based upon the seven objectives of education. These objectives are: Faithful Citizenship, Wise Use of Leisure, Worthy Home Membership, Ethical Character, Vocational and Economic Effectiveness, Mastery of Tools, Technics and Spirit of Learning, and Sound Health.

The aim of these programs has been to curtail discourtesy in the home and in school and to lessen the use of incorrect English.

The Forgotten Man

By EDWIN MARKHAM

Dedicated to Franklin D. Roosevelt, after hearing his lofty and noble appeal for the Forgotten Man.

Edwin Markham

NOT on our golden fortunes builded high—
Not on our boasts that soar into the sky—
Not upon these is resting in this hour
The fate of the future; but upon the power
Of him who is forgotten—yes, on him
Rest all our hopes reaching from rim to rim.
In him we see all of earth's toiling bands,
With crooked backs, scarred faces, shattered hands.

HE seeks no office and he asks no praise
For all the patient labor of his days.
He is the one supporting the huge weight;
He is the one guarding the country's gate.
He bears the burdens on these earthly ways:
We pile the debts, he is the one who pays.
He is the one who holds the solid power
To steady nations in their trembling hour.
Behold him as he silently goes by,
For it is at his word that nations die.

SHATTERED with loss and lack,
He is the man who holds upon his back
The continent and all its mighty loads—
This toiler who makes possible the roads—
On which the gilded thousands travel free—
Makes possible our feasts, our roaring boards,
Our pumps, our easy days, our golden hoards.
He gives stability to nations; he
Makes possible our nation, sea to sea.
His strength makes possible our college walls—
Makes possible our legislative halls—
Makes possible our churches soaring high
With spires, the fingers pointing to the sky.

SHALL then this man go hungry, here in lands
Blest by his honor, builded by his hands?
Do something for him: let him never be
Forgotten: let him have his daily bread:
He who has fed us, let him now be fed.
Let us remember all his tragic lot—
Remember, or else be ourselves forgot!

ALL honor to the one that in this hour
Cries to the world as from a lighted tower—
Cries for the Man Forgotten. Honor the one
Who asks for him a glad place in the sun.
He is a voice for the voiceless. Now, indeed,
We have a tongue that cries the mortal need.

Copyright, 1932, Edwin Markham

QUICKER, BETTER RELIEF from use of Black-Draught

"I have taken Black-Draught, off and on when needed, for twenty-five years, for it is easy to take," writes Mr. George T. Wharton, of Petersburg, Va. "I take it for constipation and when I have that dull, tired feeling. I take it for colds and other complaints where a good laxative is needed, and I believe it gives me quicker and better relief than any other medicine I know. It certainly has been a help to me."

P. S.—If you have CHILDREN, give them the new, pleasant-tasting SYRUP of Theodor's Black-Draught.

IT must be the landscape, itself, with its brilliant stirring colors that makes us all turn toward bright hues in the fall, even for food.

Fall tables should be gay. These five dishes make them so, at very little expense and with very little trouble. Cider jelly is as lovely to look at as an amber leaf, and is delicious either as a dessert or relish. Magic Ice is a beautiful green; Jellyed Ginger Pears, yellow and bronze; Monastery Pudding, a royal purple!

Cider Jelly

(Dessert or Relish)
1 package orange or lemon-flavored gelatin; 1 pint boiling sweet cider; 1/8 teaspoon salt.
Dissolve gelatin in boiling cider. Add salt. Pour into mold. Chill until firm. Unmold. Serve as dessert or relish. Serves 6.

Jellyed Ginger Pears

8 halves canned pears, drained; 1 pint boiling pear juice and water; 1 tablespoon preserved ginger, chopped; 2 tablespoons ginger syrup; 1/8 teaspoon salt; 1 package lemon-flavored gelatin.
Heat pears, pear juice, ginger, and ginger syrup to boiling. Remove pears; add salt. Dissolve gelatin in 1 pint boiling pear juice and water. Pour into mold and arrange pears in gelatin, having rounded side up. Chill until firm. Serve plain or with whipped cream. If desired, cut a ball-shaped piece from rounded side of each half of pear, and insert a maraschino cherry. Serves 8.

Magic Ice

1 package lemon-flavored gelatin; 1 pint boiling water; 1 cup green Malaga grapes, halved and seeded.
Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Chill. When slightly thickened, fold in grapes. Chill until firm. Break with a spoon and pile lightly in sherbet glasses. The irregular mass looks like ice. Serves 6.

Monastery Pudding

2 cups Concord grapes, seeded; 1/2 cup seeded raisins; 1/2 cup sugar; dash of salt; 1/2 cup water; 1 package orange-flavored gelatin; 1/4 cup walnut meats, coarsely broken.
Cook grapes, raisins, sugar, salt, and water together 5 minutes. Add gelatin and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Chill. When slightly thickened, fold in nuts. Turn into individual molds or ring mold. Chill until firm. Unmold. Serve with custard sauce or whipped cream, if desired. Serves 6.

Cardinal Pear Mold

1 package cherry-flavored gelatin; 1 1/2 cups boiling water; 1/2 cup juice from canned or cooked pears; 1/2 tablespoon vinegar; 1/8 teaspoon ginger; 1/8 teaspoon salt.
Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Add pear juice, vinegar, ginger, and salt. Turn into individual molds. Chill until firm. Unmold. Garnish with sections of pears. Serves 6.

Mrs. William Oneal and Mrs. L. M. Westbrook of Milano spent Monday here with Mrs. A. R. Oneal.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Zarr of Temple spent Sunday in Cameron at the Bigbee house, coming down to join their daughter, Mrs. Edwin Bigbee and family who were here on a visit from Galveston.

People in All Walks of Life Tell of Its Powers. Many Declare Lee's Mineral Compound Has Brought Them Health, Strength and Vigor After Many Medicines Had Failed Completely.

You who are blue, downcast and depressed over your loss of health. You who have tried many medicines and treatments with little or no relief—take new heart and cheer! Prepare yourselves for the most joyous surprise of your lives.

Throw away your "patent" medicines, pills and drastic laxatives. Give Nature a chance! Feed your body with the essential Minerals and Vitamins that God intended you should have and see how quickly Nature asserts herself and charges your body with renewed health, strength and vitality.

BODY DEMANDS MINERALS
Medical Science has discovered that the human body is made up of a very limited number of essential elements. All of these are found in the Mineral Kingdom and in foods in their natural state. To be exact, the healthy human body is composed of eleven Minerals and when these are present, in balanced proportion, we enjoy good health.

Unfortunately, few of us give any thought to balancing our diets according to their Mineral content, and therefore we must pay the penalty. A deficiency of these elements brings on Indigestion, Gas, Bloating, Constipation, Headaches, Nervousness and a host of other ills. We soon lose strength, go from bad to worse and become disgusted with life itself.

NEW WAY TO HEALTH
For many long years, Physicians and Chemists have been trying to combine, in proper proportion, the eleven essential Minerals with necessary Vitamins. They realized that the preparation must be easily assimilated and supply the system with these elements so necessary to health.

Fortunately, for all mankind, this tremendous undertaking has met with success. Science has perfected a most remarkable formula, known as LEE'S MINERAL COMPOUND. This preparation supplies the system with the eleven essential Minerals, in combination with Vitamins. It is not, in any sense of the word, a "patent" medicine but is more in the nature of a FOOD VITALIZER. It assists Nature, by restoring a proper balance of the Mineral Content of the body and good health follows as a natural result.

MAKE THIS 10 DAY TEST

Convince Yourself!
Stop dosing yourself with "patent medicines," harsh purgatives, oils and cathartics for just 10 days. Go to your nearest Druggist and secure a bottle of LEE'S MINERAL COMPOUND. Take it regularly and watch the results. You'll be amazed at the feeling of renewed strength and vigor that soon appears. ANNUAL ROLL CALL FOR RED CROSS BEGINS ON NOVEMBER 11TH

The Annual Roll Call of the American Red Cross, announced for November 11th to 24th, will find more than 3,000 chapters seeking memberships for support of regular and emergency activities through 1933.

John C. Young, chairman of the local chapter has summed up the national organization's relief activities during the past year as follows:

"To prevent suffering in this period of unemployment and general economic depression, the Red Cross has made widespread distribution of wheat, flour, clothing, medicine and other supplies. More than 2,200 chapters have participated in community unemployment relief problems.

"Approximately 15,000,000 persons residing in every state in the Union have received flour through the Red Cross, while the clothing needs of tens of thousands of distressed families have been supplemented by the organization's present cloth and clothing distribution program. The task of converting government wheat and cotton into flour and clothing was assigned to the Red Cross this year by Congress.

"After fifty-one years as the official national relief agency, the American Red Cross finds itself in 1932 carrying the largest peace-time load in its history," the chairman said.

Ninety-five disasters, in addition to unemployment, commanded the relief facilities of the organization during the last fiscal year, according to the local chapter official.

"Since 1881, the date of its founding," the chapter head declared, "disaster relief has been outstanding among Red Cross activities, and a continuous state of preparedness has been maintained. Although it is sometimes necessary to issue a national call for disaster relief funds, the great bulk of relief work is supported, as are other regular Red Cross services, wholly by membership dues forthcoming during the membership drive."

MA'S MAJORITY OVER BULLINGTON CLIMBS TO NEAR 100,000

Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson has been elected Governor of Texas on the Democratic ticket, sweeping to victory in the state on last Tuesday.

Four times the Ferguson family has held the governorship of Texas. Ma now returns for a second term following her defeat by young Dan Moody in 1926.

The latest tabulation gave Mrs. Ferguson 256,398 and Bullington 162,823.

All Amendments have carried in Texas.

EDUCATOR TALKS HERE ON PROBLEMS NOW BEFORE THE PEOPLE

Delivering a masterful address on the subject of education, Dr. Hughes of the Department of Education of A. & M. College, held the close attention of the members of the Lions Club and guests Tuesday.

Dr. Hughes compared the expenditures of the people of Texas for luxuries with the expenditures for school purposes, and declared that the people spend annually more than ten times the amount for luxuries than is spent for all school purposes.

Among the luxuries that total nearly a billion dollars a year, Dr. Hughes included tobacco, golf clubs and sports, face paint which he stated calls for ten million dollars by itself, picture shows, jewelry and automobiles for pleasure riding.

Dr. Hughes also stressed the need of better school facilities for the rural districts and stated that we could not expect to have the sort of farmers America should have until they received equal advantages as far as education is concerned.

He states that the largest problem the coming legislature will have, is that of equitable distribution of taxation, that our schools may be adequately maintained and the burden be lifted from the small farmer and home owner.

Helpful Hints to Health

DIPHTHERIA.

THROAT AND RESPIRATORY INFECTIONS

RHYTHMIC RESUME

On many a fragrant sighing breeze
Kiden dust with germs to cause disease;

On door knobs touched by everyone
Are millions left to start their fun.
On food or dainty finger tips
They're passed inside dainty ruby lips

To nose or throat or lungs they go
To poison quickly their big show.

It is estimated by good authorities that at least 50 per cent of all kinds of sickness especially those with fever are due to bacteria or germs which may produce a great deal of local irritation wherever they may be located; they also may be absorbed into the blood producing fever, pain, soreness and inflammation. The name of the organ involved with its added toll means inflammation of that particular organ but does not tell the name of the germs which cause it. Toxins or poisons from these germs may be absorbed into the blood weakening the heart and making the patient weak and anemic.

Germs produce lung and throat trouble, sinus trouble, bronchitis, etc. and even finally go down into the intestines producing appendicitis, gall bladder trouble, etc. They get into the system through the nose in the air we breathe and through the mouth by means of the finger tips and foods or anything that may have the infection on it gotten from sick persons or carriers who have the germs though they may not then be sick.

The most common source of transferring germs in schools and other public places is by the fingers which touch the door knob on which the secretions have been left by other patients handling the same and are thereby conveyed by the fingers, drinking cups, food, pencils, etc. into the nose or mouth. Hence keep your fingers, pencils and other things that may have germs on them out of your mouth. Avoid dusty rooms, such as school rooms after they have been recently swept. Moisten the broom and sprinkle the floor before sweeping, lowering the top sash and raising slightly the lower sash. Avoid getting close to persons who have had recently infectious diseases like diphtheria, sore throat, tonsillitis, bronchitis, bad colds, etc. Immediately after a sore throat, cough or fever develops, have some one to look into your throat if the doctor is not convenient. If you have much fever and pain, go to bed at once and call your family physician. Mild attacks may be helped frequently by a gargle of one teaspoonful of common baking soda and one teaspoonful of Epsom salts to the pint of hot water followed by a gargle of plain cold salt water, one teaspoonful to the pint repeated every two hours. If there are white spots on the tonsils and pillars, suspect diphtheria at once call your physician. Remember an early diagnosis of diphtheria insures a rapid cure if the antitoxin is used in the proper dose. Diphtheria is dangerous if neglected; it causes

By LOIS PEECE

"I am a citizen of the United States of America. I pledge myself to Uncle Sam to live in loyalty to my nation, its Constitution and its laws. In the spirit of justice, I will do my best to establish peace, good will, and happiness, and to increase the benefits of civilization to all humanity."

To be a happy, useful citizen, one must have courage and hope; wisdom, industry and good habits, knowledge and usefulness; truth and honesty, helpfulness and cleanliness; helpfulness and usefulness; charity, humility and reverence and faith and responsibility.

American Education Week begins with a celebration of Armistice Day. This is a good time to emphasize the advance in world progress since the war and to show the part that education has had in that advance. Special programs will be given to call attention to the Part of Paris and the responsibility of the school for promoting world good will and understanding; to call attention to the leadership of World War veterans in the movement to avoid future wars through education; to emphasize the ideal to live for loved ones, for public duty and the rights of men, as well as to die for them. On Armistice Day faithful citizenship should be magnified.

Schools should emphasize fair play, justice, co-operation, integrity, patriotism and citizenship.

Good citizenship comes from within. It is an expression of fine ideals and worthy ambitions.

Hallowe'en should be hilarious but not harmful. It is a great occasion for the youngsters. I should be the last one to suggest any curtailment of the hilarity incident to the proper observance of the evening. The young people however should be taught to discriminate very clearly between legitimate pranks and destruction of property. School property is the child's possession. No one would play a joke on himself.

Under no circumstances should mechanism of a car be the object of a prank. This cannot be classified in any manner except as criminal.

Schools train the boys and girls of America to become good citizens. School study in Geography, history, current events and social civics prepare children for citizenship duties. Schools aid immigrants to understand and meet the problems of everyday life. Schools eliminate factional and national hatreds and develop that mutual sympathy, respect and understanding essential to loyal citizenship.

Mastery of The Tools, Techniques and Spirit of Learning

By NILEY SMITH

Webster defines technique as pertaining to the mechanical arts as relating to art, science, or to a particular profession. He defines technique as artistic execution, skill and beauty in work.

Every person should master knowledge and acquire skill and that mastery should make as much use as possible of the individual's natural capacities, for growth as indicated by his interests and especially by his own purposes.

Man is just so far above lower animals in as much as he is born with the power to choose. The mastery of this power to choose is the learning that makes him successful. The artist must choose and group with science those elements in order that the result may be beautiful. The musician gathers his notes and forms his chords until he brings forth glorious harmony. But the manner in which an artist or a musician masters this choice determines whether or not he is a genius. The same is true of other professions. The practical workman is superior as he chooses to master his craftsmanship. In the school room and on the athletic field we find the same technical values of the individual.

Webster defines spirit as pertaining to courage, energy, vivacity, power of mind, moral and intellectual, genius; real meaning.

To attain superiority in any walk of life one must have spirit. What is true on the athletic field is true in the classroom or in business. What would our athletic contests be if the participants did not show spirit, courage and the determination to win. Would a crowd of seventy or eighty thousand pay two or three dollars to see a college football game as they do in some places today, if the players played in a listless, don't care manner? No, what the crowd likes to see is a hard fought contest, with every man showing plenty of spirit and pep. The teacher in the classroom does not admire a listless student, and a listless person does not get far in the world. One must keep one's spirit, courage, determination to make a success in life to attain his or her goal.

Mental Health

By MARY ALICE PHIPPS

Intellectual growth alone leaves us one-legged. If we only had X-Ray visions so we could look through people and see the size of their souls, we should find that one may graduate from college and still be a child in feeling, with an emotional age of seven and a quotient of seventy-one.

Your big man has very likely succeeded on the basis of his mental health, be it inborn or acquired. He has found, perhaps by the bitter experience of costly mistakes that he must hold his temper or lose his course, must avoid envy, jealousy and other reducing moods or passions; must be cheerful and friendly if he would hold friends, and must be able to take a beating with a smile to win from the Indian-tempered world its admiration.

Cooperation between the home and the school is essential for the success and happiness of the boys and girls in our public schools. His attitude toward food, sleep, play, authority, companions, and also toward himself are directly correlated with his mental and physical welfare.

Education is not merely a matter of book learning but is a matter of behavior; we do not learn self-control by reading about it and committing to memory many facts about the nature of self control. Similarly we learn honesty by being honest and courage by being courageous.

The outstanding symptoms of mental disturbance is unhappiness. Every child has desires which he tries to satisfy. It is natural for a child to be happy and to desire pleasurable associations with his companions. The mentally healthy child is one who is fairly successful in meeting the problems that arise. He takes a keen interest in living. He enjoys his play and accepts ordinary responsibility. He meets difficulties fairly and squarely. He has an attitude of good will toward others and gets along with them. The child who is mentally healthy is happy and has wholesome attitudes that enables him to fit in with the group around him. He is successful.

Stomach Disorders Threaten His Life Says Western Banker

"I tried everything to get relief from stomach trouble," says M. J. Joy, prominent banker, 425 Riverside Avenue, Spokane, Wash. "About an hour after meal time severe, burning pains would develop in my stomach. Finally I had to carry a thermos bottle filled with milk and take a drink every hour. I went to one stomach specialist after another. All recommended an immediate operation and diagnosed my case as an ulcer. One doctor told my wife that I had a cancer of the stomach. X-Rays cost me over $300. I was afraid to submit to an operation as a friend of mine had one for a stomach ulcer and later he was as bad as ever. A neighbor told me about a marvelous new discovery by a German specialist called KING'S STOMACH TABLETS. I wired for a bottle to be sent me C. O. D. After taking the first tablet I felt relieved. In less than a week my appetite began to return, and I began to eat normally and digest my food. Davilla Nine Stops Sharp Cats In

Despite Reichert and Pepper Young with their long hits and Arch Peele's excellent mound work the Davilla "Diamond Warriors" carried off a 7 to 4 victory leaving the two teams on a tie for the championship of the South Milam. White featured excellent mound work for Davilla by getting eleven strikeouts and allowing only scattering hits. However, the scores were tied in the ninth inning and Davilla won the game on an error. The final game to be played next Sunday will be played on neutral territory it was reported here today.

Begin Taking Cardui Today If You Suffer Like This Lady Did

"WHEN I was a girl, I began taking Cardui," writes Mrs. Maggie Stanfield, of Crandall, Ga. "I was very irregular for twelve months. Nothing did me very much good until my mother began to give me this medicine. Then I got all right, stout and well."

I just weighed 90 pounds when I began taking Cardui. I improved rapidly. Before long I weighed 126 pounds. I felt fine. I was able to do a good day's work."

Shadows of the Past Return for a Day

Gone from the papers are the headlines telling anxious civilians of the tide of battle. Died away are the echoes of our cheers as America's Finest marched forth to war. Now our thoughts turn to business conditions and football scores. The very sirens and whistles that hailed golden victory 14 years ago summon workers to task or leisure.

But this is an anniversary. Just now let us reflect in gratitude on the boys who have done their bit and who have turned their efforts to peace and to America.

How Cardui Helps Women

"Mal-nutrition" means that your body is not getting enough to keep it up, so that what it has to do is not done well. You may not be eating enough to keep up the work of the body, or there may be something wrong that keeps you from getting full value from the food you eat.

Because of mal-nutrition, some women have aches and pains every month. Such pains should not be neglected.

Take Cardui to give you a better appetite, to give you more strength from the food you eat—to build up and increase your feeling of well-being. Aches and pains go away as you build up with the help of Cardui.

COLORED HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The Vocational Agriculture Students of the Cameron Colored High School met on October 20, 1932 and organized their F. F. A. Chapter. The officers of the organization are: Moss Thomas, president; Nathaniel Cherry, vice president; Billy Burks, secretary; Eunice Daniel, treasurer; Charlie Thomas, reporter; Oscar Bowler, doorkeeper and Fred Cavanaugh, chaplain.

There are many advantages which the boys will derive from the organization. Some of them are:

1. The F. F. A. develops leadership by participation in the public speaking contest.
2. The F. F. A. develops the students ability to speak in public.
3. The F. F. A. promotes scholarship, as this is one of the requirements in the organization.
4. The F. F. A. develops the habit of putting into practice the boys' ideals, because one of the best habits a boy can form is that of putting into practice his ambitions and plans.
5. The F. F. A. cultivates in the boys a business procedure by setting up in the boys as one of its objectives the matter of thrift and saving accounts.
6. The F. F. A. teaches the boys to cooperate, because there are many activities in the organization which are group activities and cannot be accomplished except through the work of the group as a whole.

The Vocational Agriculture Judging team of the Cameron colored high school won second place in the 'Almot' contest, which was held in Alcorn, Miss. on October 13 and 14, 1932. The members of the team, as ranked according to their individual score, were:

Dussie Poole, score 479.
Willie Woods, score 477.
Billy Burks, score 472.
Eunice Daniel, alternate.

Synopsis of Preceding Chapter

Captain Paul Onslow, head of the Sylvanian delegation at the International Peace Conference at Geneva, is the guest of Baron von Sturm, a compatriot, and his daughter, Valerie. Karl Kranz who loves Valerie, also stays at the house. Onslow has aroused fierce resentment by voting against universal peace which he considers dangerous to Sylvania. Alarmed for his safety, Valerie calls for Onslow at the Peace Palace in her car. As they are riding home, a pistol is discharged at them.

Chapter II

As they crouched on the floor another bullet ripped through the glass and buried itself in the upholstery. Then all was still as the car rolled swiftly out of range. On the seat with the chauffeur, the secretary Kellner crouched, blanched with fear.

For a moment there was no sound but Valerie's broken sobs as she clung to Paul. Finally he spoke reassuringly. "It's all right dear. We're out of it now."

Her arms tightened about him. Her face pressed against his.

"Oh, Paul—if anything had happened to you . . . if you had been killed."

For an instant he looked at her. Then he crushed her to him kissing her on the lips—a long hungry kiss.

"Valerie," he murmured, "my darling."

"Say that again," she breathed, her eyes shining. "Say it every minute."

That evening when all were assembled in the Baron's drawing room there was none of the light banter that customarily marked their after supper gatherings. The benevolent face of the old Baron was very grave. Karl was even more concerned. Paul Onslow made light of the attempt on his life. He had anticipated something of the sort. He like the other men was chiefly shocked that Valerie had been exposed to the danger. The Baron was urging that the police be notified when Sturges entered to announce Professor Bauer.

The Professor, one of the most talked of scientists in Europe, famous alike for his learning and eccentricity was an old friend of Baron von Sturm who left the room immediately to welcome him. He returned escorting a short, carelessly dressed man with broad flat face and outthrust jaw. The newcomer went up to Valerie and pinched her cheek.

"It's nice to see you again my little Baroness," he cried. "Since I saw you last you grew tall like the Tower of Eiffel."

"It's nice to see you again, Professor Bauer," she smiled. "You remember Karl?"

"Yah. Why not," grunted Bauer. Then with a sudden yelp of pain he flopped into a chair and pulled off his right shoe. "Ach, those bunions." He looked at Onslow. "Do you ever get them?"

Embarrassed Valerie hastened to present Paul. Bauer growled an acknowledgment. Then looking up, "Once I knew a Doctor Onslow of Sylvania. Are you related?"

"Distantly. He was the ninth child. I was the first."

The Professor joined in the laugh that followed. Then he rose. A giant was trundling a large crate toward the laboratory. It was Bauer's man, Blucher a deaf mute. By signs the professor directed his handling of the crate. Then he and the Baron entered the room lined with test tubes and retorts. They chaffed one another a bit as Blucher arranged the crate. When he had gone the Baron became serious.

"What is in that case, Otto?"

Solemnly Bauer replied. "Emil, in there is something that science will shout about. Tomorrow at the University I show it to the world. Yah!"

On the moon bathed terrace outside the drawing room windows Valerie faced Karl. His eyes were tragic.

"I had to tell you Karl," she said gently.

"But you haven't known Paul long enough to really love him. It's infatuation—that's all."

She turned away. "Just a little while ago," he persisted, "you said you didn't know your own mind."

"I know it now. I'm sure of everything that I was uncertain about before. I'm sorry I hurt you Karl."

They were silent a moment. Then Karl said:

"It won't work out. Listen dear — Paul is the finest man I know, but he has only two interests in life, his country and his career. There's not enough room left for—the kind of love you need."

"Please!" she protested.

"I'm sorry. It's all so meaningless without you, Val," he faltered. Then with an effort he regained control of himself, seeing her white face. "Forget what I've said. I hope you have all kinds of luck — and happiness." He started to leave.

"Don't go," she begged.

"I'd better."

"I'll see you tonight at the dinner."

"All right," he answered.

She watched him as he went away. When she turned, Paul was beside her. He too was watching Karl.

"Why did Karl go without seeing me?" he asked.

"Oh," she stammered, "I told him about — us."

"You told Karl?"

"He and I have always been great friends," said Valerie, smiling at his troubled tone. She took his arm and directed their steps toward the house.

"I see," answered Paul. "Val—you are quite sure I'm the one you love?"

"Quite sure—my dear—don't let anything take you from me ever."

"What could?" then he teased. "You mean the pretty girls who are coming to your dinner tonight? No danger there. I won't have much time for them."

"Why?"

"There is another conference tonight. I forgot to tell you."

Valerie's blood chilled. The vision of that mob—the pistol shots—invasion the beauty of this moment with her beloved terrified her.

"No! I won't let you go!" she cried.

"Not after what happened this afternoon."

"But I must, dear."

"Please! Let some one else vote for you! There are other representatives from Sylvania."

"There's only one who will vote my way." Then the grimace left his face. "Soon we'll be married. Then I'll take you away—Biarritz, Cannes, Capri, Heaven!"

"And after Heaven—what? Shall I live all my life in fear of losing you?"

"Of course not."

"Oh, yes I will. Paul," she pleaded, "for me—for our love—give up this dangerous career."

"Give up my career? Darling, it's my life. All my people have been in the diplomatic service. It's bred in me. You're not being fair."

"Fair," she retorted, "to whom? To you—to me—to Sylvania?"

"Sylvania hasn't anyone else to depend on to help her. She's depending on me."

"So am I," she persisted.

"I can't desert her now dear," Paul explained patiently.

"I don't want you to. You've started a fight. You must finish it. But when it's over—after to-night."

"After to-night?" He faced her challengingly. "Val! Are you asking me to choose between you and —"

"I love you," she broke in. "I can't bear to have you in danger." Her hand over his lips checked his answer. "Don't answer me now," she begged. "Tell me later—what you decide."

She tried to smile holding back the tears. Then suddenly she left him.

STUDENTS OBSERVING EDUCATIONAL WEEK

By LOIS PECK

The history and english classes of Yoe High School have been conducting several educational programs in commemoration of National Education Week.

The past week was set aside as courtesy week. It was conducted in the following manner. The Senior and Junior classes were given tags with which to tag students who committed breaches of courtesy. The Seniors tagged the sophomores with yellow tags and tagged the juniors and faculty members with red tags. The class which has the fewest number of tags will be rewarded and also the students who received no tags will be rewarded in some manner by their two English teachers. The Seniors have approximately 162 tags, the Juniors 150; the Sophomores 90 and the Freshmen 89. The Faculty Members have about 44 tags.

Soon we will set aside a week for Good English Week. In this week the Freshmen and Sophomores will be permitted to tag Juniors, Seniors and Faculty Members for the use of

Recently themes have been written by Junior and Senior students, based upon the seven objectives of education. These objectives are: Faithful Citizenship, Wise Use of Leisure, Worthy Home Membership, Ethical Character, Vocational and Economic Effectiveness, Mastery of Tools, Technics and Spirit of Learning, and Sound Health.

The aim of these programs has been to curtail discourtesy in the home and in school and to lessen the use of incorrect English.

The Forgotten Man

By EDWIN MARKHAM

Dedicated to Franklin D. Roosevelt, after hearing his lofty and noble appeal for the Forgotten Man.

—Edwin Markham

NOT on our golden fortunes builded high—
Not on our boasts that soar into the sky—
Not upon these is resting in this hour
The fate of the future; but upon the power
Of him who is forgotten—yes, on him
Rest all our hopes reaching from rim to rim.
In him we see all of earth's toiling bands,
With crooked backs, scarred faces, shattered hands.

HE seeks no office and he asks no praise
For all the patient labor of his days.
He is the one supporting the huge weight:
He is the one guarding the country's gate.
He bears the burdens on these earthly ways:
We pile the debts, he is the one who pays.
He is the one who holds the solid power
To steady nations in their trembling hour.
Behold him as he silently goes by,
For it is at his word that nations die.

SHATTERED with loss and lack,
He is the man who holds upon his back
The continent and all its mighty loads—
This toiler who makes possible the roads—
On which the gilded thousands travel free—
Makes possible our feasts, our roaring boards,
Our pomps, our easy days, our golden hoards.
He gives stability to nations: he
Makes possible our nation, sea to sea.
His strength makes possible our college walls—
Makes possible our legislative halls—
Makes possible our churches soaring high
With spires, the fingers pointing to the sky.

SHALL then this man go hungry, here in lands
Blest by his honor, builded by his hands?
Do something for him: let him never be
Forgotten: let him have his daily bread:
He who has fed us, let him now be fed.
Let us remember all his tragic lot—
Remember, or else be ourselves forgot!

ALL honor to the one that in this hour
Cries to the world as from a lighted tower—
Cries for the Man Forgotten. Honor the one
Who asks for him a glad place in the sun.
He is a voice for the voiceless. Now, indeed,
We have a tongue that cries the mortal need.

Copyright, 1932, Edwin Markham

QUICKER, BETTER RELIEF from use of Black-Draught

"I have taken Black-Draught, off and on when needed, for twenty-five years, for it is easy to take," writes Mr. George T. Wharton, of Petersburg, Va. "I take it for constipation and when I have that dull, tired feeling. I take it for colds and other complaints where a good laxative is needed, and I believe it gives me quicker and better relief than any other medicine I know. It certainly has been a help to me."

P. S.—If you have CHILDREN, give them the new, pleasant-tasting SYRUP of Theodor's Black-Draught.

It must be the landscape, itself, with its brilliant stirring colors that makes us all turn toward bright hues in the fall, even for food.

Fall tables should be gay. These five dishes make them so, at very little expense and with very little trouble. Cider jelly is as lovely to look at as an amber leaf, and is delicious either as a dessert or relish. Magic Ice is a beautiful green; Jellyed Ginger Pears, yellow and bronze; Monastery Pudding, a royal purple!

Cider Jelly

(Dessert or Relish)

1 package orange or lemon-flavored gelatin; 1 pint boiling sweet cider; 1/8 teaspoon salt.
Dissolve gelatin in boiling cider. Add salt. Pour into mold. Chill until firm. Unmold. Serve as dessert or relish. Serves 6.

Jellyed Ginger Pears

8 halves canned pears, drained; 1 pint boiling pear juice and water; 1 tablespoon preserved ginger, chopped; 2 tablespoons ginger syrup; 1/8 teaspoon salt; 1 package lemon-flavored gelatin.
Heat pears, pear juice, ginger, and ginger syrup to boiling. Remove pears; add salt. Dissolve gelatin in 1 pint boiling pear juice and water. Pour into mold and arrange pears in gelatin, having rounded side up. Chill until firm. Serve plain or with whipped cream. If desired, cut a ball-shaped piece from rounded side of each half of pear, and insert a maraschino cherry. Serves 8.

Magic Ice

1 package lemon-flavored gelatin; 1 pint boiling water; 1 cup green Malaga grapes, halved and seeded.
Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Chill. When slightly thickened, fold in grapes. Chill until firm. Break with a spoon and pile lightly in sherbet glasses. The irregular mass looks like ice. Serves 6.

Monastery Pudding

2 cups Concord grapes, seeded; 1/2 cup seeded raisins; 1/2 cup sugar; dash of salt; 3/4 cup water; 1 package orange-flavored gelatin; 1/4 cup walnut meats, coarsely broken.
Cook grapes, raisins, sugar, salt, and water together 5 minutes. Add gelatin and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Chill. When slightly thickened, fold in nuts. Turn into individual molds or ring mold. Chill until firm. Unmold. Serve with custard sauce or whipped cream, if desired. Serves 6.

Cardinal Pear Mold

1 package cherry-flavored gelatin; 1 1/2 cups boiling water; 1/2 cup juice from drained or cooked pears; 1/2 tablespoon vinegar; 1/8 teaspoon ginger; 1/8 teaspoon salt.
Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Add pear juice, vinegar, ginger, and salt. Turn into individual molds. Chill until firm. Unmold. Garnish with sections of pears. Serves 6.

Mrs. William Oneal and Mrs. L. M. Westbrook of Milano spent Monday here with Mrs. A. R. Oneal.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Zarr of Temple spent Sunday in Cameron at the Bigbee house, coming down to join their daughter, Mrs. Edwin Bigbee and family who were here on a visit from Galveston.

People in All Walks of Life Tell of Its Powers. Many Declare Lee's Mineral Compound Has Brought Them Health, Strength and Vigor After Many Medicines Had Failed Completely.

You who are blue, downcast and depressed over your loss of health. You who have tried many medicines and treatments with little or no relief—take new heart and cheer! Prepare yourselves for the most joyous surprise of your lives.

Throw away your "patent" medicines, pills and drastic laxatives. Give Nature a chance! Feed your body with the essential Minerals and Vitamins that God intended you should have and see how quickly Nature asserts herself and charges your body with renewed health, strength and vitality.

BODY DEMANDS MINERALS
Medical Science has discovered that the human body is made up of a very limited number of essential elements. All of these are found in the Mineral Kingdom and in foods in their natural state. To be exact, the healthy human body is composed of eleven Minerals and when these are present in balanced proportion, we enjoy good health.

Unfortunately, few of us give any thought to balancing our diets, according to their Mineral content, and therefore we must pay the penalty. A deficiency of these elements brings on Indigestion, Gas, Bloating, Constipation, Headaches, Nervousness and a host of other ills. We soon lose strength, go from bad to worse and become disgusted with life itself.

NEW WAY TO HEALTH
For many long years, Physicians and Chemists have been trying to combine, in proper proportion, the eleven essential Minerals with necessary Vitamins. They realized that the preparation must be easily assimilated and supply the system with these elements so necessary to health.

Fortunately, for all mankind, this tremendous undertaking has met with success! Science has perfected a most remarkable formula, known as LEE'S MINERAL COMPOUND. This preparation supplies the system with the eleven essential Minerals, in combination with Vitamins. It is not, in any sense of the word, a "patent" medicine but is more in the nature of a FOOD VITALIZER. It assists Nature, by restoring a proper balance of the Mineral Content of the body and good health follows as a natural result.

MAKE THIS 10 DAY TEST

Convince Yourself!
Stop dosing yourself with "patent medicines," harsh purgatives, oils and cathartics for just 10 days. Go to your nearest Druggist and secure a bottle of LEE'S MINERAL COMPOUND. Take it regularly and watch the results. You'll be amazed at the feeling of renewed strength and vigor that soon appears. No narcotics or alcohol to "boost you up" but a natural method of restoring health and energy.

ANNUAL ROLL CALL FOR RED CROSS BEGINS ON NOVEMBER 11TH

The Annual Roll Call of the American Red Cross, announced for November 11th to 24th, will find more than 3,000 chapters seeking memberships for support of regular and emergency activities through 1933.

John C. Young, chairman of the local chapter has summed up the national organization's relief activities during the past year as follows:

"To prevent suffering in this period of unemployment and general economic depression, the Red Cross has made widespread distribution of wheat, flour, clothing, medicine and other supplies. More than 2,200 chapters have participated in community unemployment relief problems.

"Approximately 15,000,000 persons residing in every state in the Union have received flour through the Red Cross, while the clothing needs of tens of thousands of distressed families have been supplemented by the organization's present cloth and clothing distribution program. The task of converting government wheat and cotton into flour and clothing was assigned to the Red Cross this year by Congress.

"After fifty-one years as the official national relief agency, the American Red Cross finds itself in 1932 carrying the largest peace-time load in its history," the chairman said.

Ninety-five disasters, in addition to unemployment, commanded the relief facilities of the organization during the last fiscal year, according to the local chapter official.

"Since 1881, the date of its founding," the chapter head declared, "disaster relief has been outstanding among Red Cross activities, and a continuous state of preparedness has been maintained. Although it is sometimes necessary to issue a national call for disaster relief funds, the great bulk of relief work is supported, as are other regular Red Cross services, wholly by membership dues forthcoming during the membership drive.
